Thirty-ninth Convention Meets To-night and Laudable Plans Will Be Discussed.

MANY DELEGATES HERE

Meeting Will Seek to Enable Povertystricken Mothers to Retain Children.

Children.

The old sdage, "It is better to give than to receive," will be the underlying theme of the deliberations of the thrity-finith annual convention of District Grand Lodge, No. 5. Independent Order Braal Erith, which will be opened to-night with a "get-together meeting" in the Eigint Street Temple.

Delegates from two Southern States and the District will be present. It has been definitely decided that the principal subjects to be discussed at the sessions of the three days convention will relate to the material extension of several phases of the philanthropic work of the order.

Probably one of the greatest reforms ever attempted by any organization and she which may be not upon a working basis at this convention is proposed elimination of orphane' house, so far as is possible. Prominent workers of the order have drawn up a plan by which it is honed that the Ifrail Brith can remove children from orphane's house, place them in the cars of their widowed mathers and provide for a system of pendons to mothers, so that the olddren may have the benefit of home influences.

"Damaged Goods" Postponed.

"Damaged Goods" Persponed.

The presentation of "Damaged Goods" has been changed from Sunday night, April 6, to Sunday afternoon of the same day. This action was taken owing to the protests of many ministers of the city, who would not have been able to be present at a night performance. The presentation will take place at the National Theater.

Samuel J. R. Lancaster and Charles C. Luticaster, Jr., who left Washington two weeks ago, are now engaged in business at Ray, N. Dak, according to letters re-ceived by friends. The young men are well known in Washington.

every one could have a slice."

While Representative Ciayton felt that there was no danger of a panic, former denator Balley could not be altracther optimistic in his outlook. He felt that some little harm would be felt from the tariff revision. He said that importation even now waits on it, and that domastic production was bound to be affected to a certain extent. The test of the new tariff policy is advisable, in the opinion of former Senator Balley, and he said that he welcomed this test—but he warned his hearers that they need expect "but little wholesome legislation from these new Congressmen."
